A FALL SPORT?

Yes, those are tennis players on City Park courts even as chilly temperatures compel them to put on warmup suits. And we understand YHS players will be outfitted in warmups this year.

Sophomores Buster Miller and George Sanders, probably the best junior doubles combo as freshmen in this area, were hitting the ball Tuesday afternoon.

The courts were full most of last Sunday.

Tennis here then joins football as a fall sport, perhaps a surprise to the uninitiated who might think thick pads and plastic helmet are fall requisites.

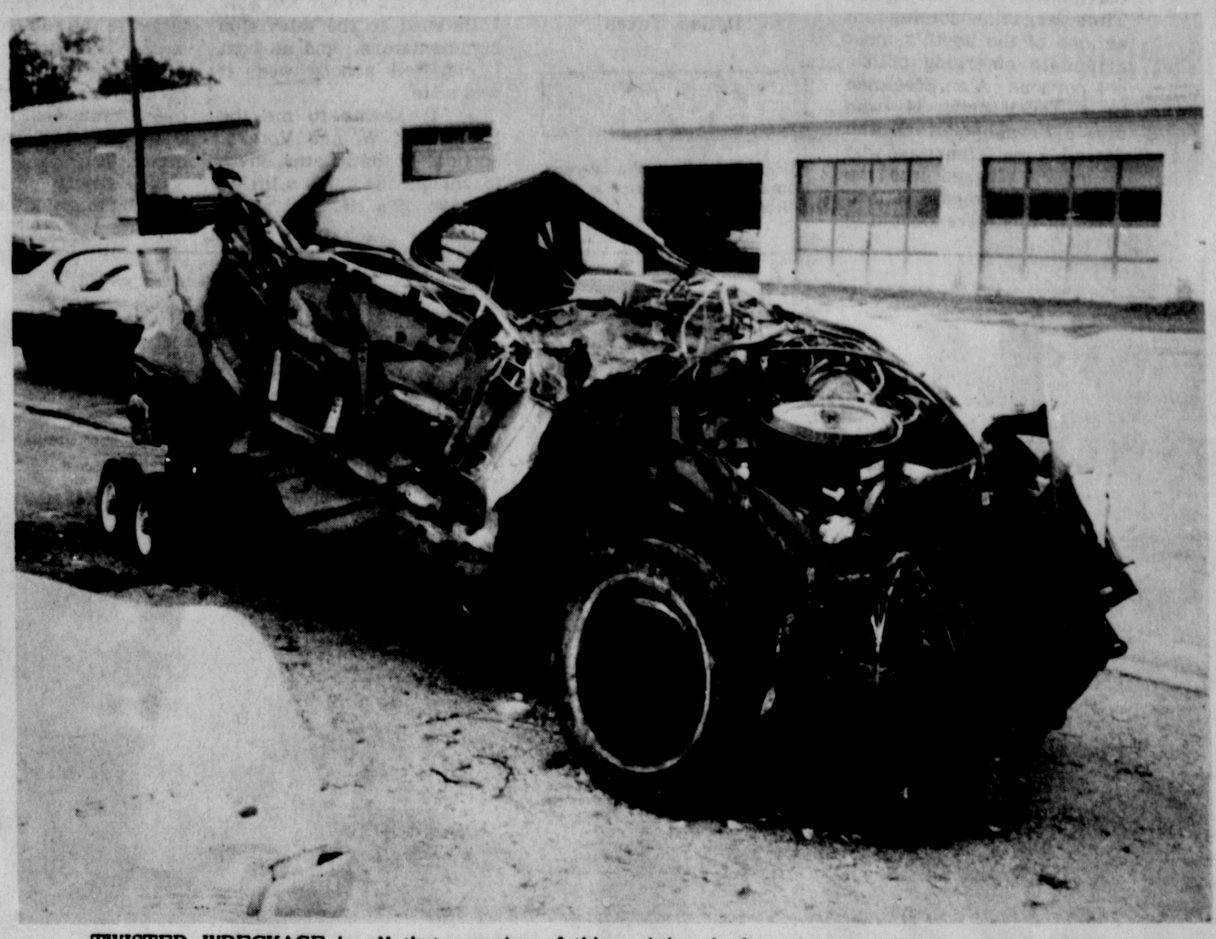
One tennis player used to spend chilly fall afternoons hitting a couple hundred serves until he could hold an ax straight out by the end of the handle. Try it!

The same kid in high school learned judo (before karate and kungfu) from a football coach who had been a Big 10 heavyweight wrestling champ. This followed high hurdles and quarter miles, gymnastics and linebacking in football, not unlike tennis player Stephen Hollas, and ice hockey, the kind with sticks and blades and rock-hard pucks.

The serve of tennis pro Roscoe Tanner moves almost 140 m.p.h. His is called a slap service which would drive spikes through bleachers if he used a light sledge instead of a tennis racket.

Yes, tennis is a fall sport, a winter sport as well. You'll see the frost scraped off some sunny winter mornings this year as the players in warmups, and maybe a muffler added, will keep hitting the fuzzy tennis balls back and forth the 90 feet from baseline to baseline.

Maybe tennis is becoming too demanding, like football, but the demands are the same: strength, agility, endurance. It's perhaps one up otherwise in that people play it fall and year-round.



TWISTED WRECKAGE is all that remains of this car which was struck by a train near Buckholts Tuesday afternoon. One of the occupants was killed when she was thrown from the car, and another injured after she was pinned in the wreckage. The car was knocked about 90 feet from the point of impact.

Car-Train Crash Fatal

Funeral service was held Wednesday for the victim of a car-train accident which occurred near Buckholts Monday afternoon near SH 36 at 3:35 p.m.

Pronounced dead at the scene was Annette Cannon, 22, of 407 E. 7 St. in Cameron. Another girl, Eva Mikulec, 18, also of Cameron, was treated and released from a Temple hospital Monday night following the accident.

The two were in a car which was struck by a seven-engine Santa Fe combination at a crossing 1.5 miles west of Buckholts. The car was traveling north on a gravel road known as Schiller Road, heading towards Highway 36. The train, consisting of seven engines with no cars and operated by Engineer S. M. Trampe of Temple, was heading west.

DPS Trooper Scott Douglas, who investigated the accident, said witnesses on the train told him they saw the car approaching the crossing and saw the girls look to the left as they approached. The train was on the right and apparently they did not see the train in time to avoid collision.

Douglas said the car was knocked about 90 feet from the point of impact. Miss Cannon was thrown from the car and was found 40 feet from the vehicle, while Miss Mikulec was pinned inside the overturned car for several minutes. Train personnel and several passers-by quickly raised the car and freed her arm from beneath it.

Douglas said the engineer told him the train was traveling at 60 to 70 miles per hour which was not unusual for that area.

Funeral for Miss Cannon was at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the chapel of Phillips and Luckey Funeral Home in Rockdale, with Rev. James Lafferty officiating. Burial was in the Milano Cemetery.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Connie Cannon of Cameron, and a brother, Ralph Cannon of Denver, Colo.

Museum Opens Saturday Along With Art Fair

Two rooms of displays will be ready in the Milam County Historical Museum and the facility will be open in conjunction with the annual Fall Arts and Crafts Fair to be held in City Park in Cameron on Saturday.

The museum will be open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m, hours for the arts and crafts show. The museum committees are working "feverishly" this week to have display cases and exhibits ready, said Mrs. Kay Green.

She said this will not be the official "open house" for the formal opening of the museum, but just a day's display to let the public see what all has been done to get the old county jail ready for its new role.

The open house will be held later on when protective bars have been placed in the downstairs windows and more complete exhibits are ready, she said.

"The Saturday opening will reflect the determination of the museum committees to get something for the public to view," she added. All crafts fair visitors and others are invited to view the exhibits.

Some 35 artists and craftsmen will have booths set up in the park with a wide variety of items for sale. Food booths will offer a number of goodies, including sausage, chili, sandwhiches, cakes, and drinks.

The park pavilion will house a special display of items not for sale, but just for looking. Crafts will include paintings, macrame, crochet, ceramics, quilts, and dried flowers. Artists will be local and from the area.

County Receives First Shipment Of Flu Vaccine

The Milam County Health Department has received 800 doses of swine flu vaccine, but public clinics for vaccination of county residents will not be held until more doses are received.

Dr. E. Douglas Perrin, Milam County health officer, said the 800 doses of the monovalent swine flu vaccine will be allocated to the three county hospitals (St. Edward and Newton in Cameron and Richards Hospital in Rockdale), county nursing homes and fire and police departments to innoculate staff and personnel in those critical areas.

Dr. Perrin said the health department is awaiting sufficient amounts of swine flu and the two types of A-Victoria flu vaccine to start the countywide immunization program. When all three types are available the Milam County Health Department will sponsor public clinics.

The department is waiting for delivery of the bivalent vaccine for those 65 and over and the chronically ill, and the split vaccine to be used for chronically ill children who are 3 to 17 years old.

The bivalent vaccine contains vaccine the A/New Jersey (Swine) flu and the A-Victoria (regular flu).

Council Adopts Removal Policy For Utilities In Old Buildings

A recommendation to remove utilities from red - tagged dilapidated buildings in the city was adopted by the city council Tuesday evening and members also heard a suggestion for fining litterbugs from the city code inspector.

Ed Bigbee, city inspector, said he has red-tagged an old frame building near city hall on Gillis St., tagged the old Pearl warehouse, and the ice house on First St. He recommended that the city, power company and gas company remove utilities from the tagged buildings so that they may not be rented to anyone. This is to encourage removal of such structures, he said.

Bigbee suggested that the council give the police instructions to ticket anyone they see littering the streets or people's yards. Chief Kent Butler said his yard gets full of trash too and said if caught the litterbug would be made to clean up the litter.

In other business, councilman Monroe Fuchs said the volunteer ambulance service was working well, and added that a first aid course will be offered on Wednesday, Oct. 13 at 5:30 p.m. at the Yoe homemaking building for anyone who wishes to join the service.

Mayor Pro-Tem Gene Lumpkin, presiding in the absence of the mayor, recommended that the council read a contract offered by Bell Telephone making arrangements for the city to take over functions of its local office, scheduled to close. Lumpkin said the contract asks the city to do all the work now handled by that office for $185 per month.

Council set next Tuesday as the date for a special session which will include an executive meeting.

In other action, council tabled a request for leasing of the airport hangars and office by John Jeffrey at $65 a month. He proposes to sell gas for planes and offer other services not now being provided.

Members voted to donate the city's Christmas decorations to the Chamber of Commerce provided the request comes from the board of directors. The Chamber has plans for trading decorations with other cities, selling some, or purchasing additional ones.

A new driver for the fire department was hired at $725 per month. He is David Gierdana, formerly with the Killeen fire department. Council also voted to purchase a pocket radio scanner for the driver.

Coleman Duncum asked council to do something to stop the gravel street from washing away at the corner of Tenth and Twelfth. It was voted to place a concrete apron at the trouble spot and to contact property owners in the area about curb and gutter installation.

Traffic Mishaps Send Injured To Hospitals

Cameron police investigated three accidents over the weekend, with two at the same scene and another in which a passenger was injured.

A couple from Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weems Jr., were both treated for numerous cuts and bruises after their motorcycle collided with a large German Shepherd at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

The accident occurred near the city limits in the vicinity of Johnnie's Drive In. The dog reportedly ran out in front of the cycle on the highway and the cycle overturned, dumping the Weems on the road. They were taken by Cameron Volunteer Ambulance Service to a local hospital where they were treated and released.

The dog was killed by the impact.

During the congestion at the scene, a car driven by Alonzo Ellison of Cameron plowed into the rear of a car parked on the side of the highway. A child in that car received a bump on the head.

Ellison was charged with driving while intoxicated and placed in the county jail.

A passenger in a pickup that was wrecked around 12:30 a.m. Saturday received a broken leg and fractured jaw. That accident occurred at Batte and Vine in Cameron.

The pickup, driven by Jerry Don Barton of Cameron, apparently went out of control, striking a parked car and then a utility pole. The passenger, Raymond Phillips of Cameron, was pinned in the pickup a short while till a wrecker pulled the pickup apart enough to free him.

He was given emergency treatment at a local hospital then transferred to Scott and White in Temple. Barton was treated for minor injuries and released from the local hospital.

Meeting To Ask Volunteer Aid For Aged, Blind

A meeting to explain the volunteer service program for the elderly and disabled in the Cameron area will be held Thursday night (tonight) at 7 in the Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Roy Boutwell, supervisor of adult services for aging, blind, and disabled with the Texas State Department of Public Welfare will be guest speaker for the Cameron Young Adult Fellowshp group. The public is invited to come.

Boutwell, who supervises a nine-county area, will talk about the Welfare Department's services to the elderly, blind, or disabled citizens in the area. A volunteer program being initiated by the department will be calling for help.

People are needed to work with the department's social workers providing volunteer help, such as visiting, providing transportation, reading and writing letters for the blind, helping with house repairs and yard work in the Cameron area.

Anyone interested in this program is invited to attend the discussion.

Bloodmobile To Be Here Tuesday

The Central Texas Red Cross Bloodmobile will make a call in Cameron next Tuesday, Oct. 12 and it is hoped by local blood program officials that Cameron will continue meeting its quota.

Quota for the visit is 73 units.

Mrs. Glenda Moseley, local blood program chairman, said Cameron has reached its quota at each drawing during the year and there are two drawings left. She said it is hoped the city can register 100 percent of its quota given.

The bloodmobile will be at the Methodist Fellowship Hall from 12 noon until 6 p.m. and all regular donors and prospective new donors are urged to remember the date, Tuesday, October 12.

Broadest Milam Support...

With pledges and contributions heading for the mid-fifties in thousands, the Milam-wide funding program for a Milam Exposition complex is all but assured.

It is commentary on a renewed consciousness of Milam Countians working together for a major goal.

The goal is something more than $65,000 for an 18,000 - square - foot structure. It is a certain restoration of interest in a county awareness which reaches back more than three generations to find similar cohesion.

It was 1891 that the Milam Courthouse was built, based on county-wide recognition of the need for a permanent structure for county legal and administrative business. The old red-brick jail was finished sometime before the courthouse.

Some road bonds were voted or approved county-wide early in the 20th century, the first means for developing rural roads before a Texas Highway Department emerged ultimately to take most of this responsibility, even to paved farm-to-market roads.

An attempt at a county-wide bond issue in the mid-60s failed for a remodeled courthouse and a new jail. Public officials then wondered why at least the jail portion went unapproved.

Then revenue sharing meant funds for the new jail and the new tax building after remodeling of the interior of the courthouse.

Until this project, county-wide funding in public votes was more memory than fact.

This is public and broad-based, the numbers of organizations, individuals and enterprises numbering now in the hundreds. Though not a bond or a tax, it is a genuine contribution to Milam County development.

Youth first will benefit, but in the broad view the county will benefit. And Milam Countians of every persuasion acknowledge this by their contribution.

The project receives and deserves the broadest Milam support.

Which Way The Tide?

By hairline width, Swedish voters the past two weeks paused in a 40-year trek in socialism to turn to conservative leadership and West German voters returned Helmut Schmidt's coalition Social Democrats to power only after the more conservative Christian Democrats solidified once again as the country's strongest single party.

By hairline width, a communist government failed to take office in Italian elections a few months ago, though its influence was a only percentile point or less from equaling a more conservative plurality still in power.

The pattern is thus emerging that Western Europe, much closer to public election of social governments, is hedging on further moves to the left.

The British pound continues to decline as both Labor and Conservative governments seem unable to cope with Great Britain's economic misfortunes.

All this suggests that more liberal, group government is less certain and less well received in the heritage countries of the U. S.

And it may portend the economic views of the November election which will decide a president and determine which way the tide flows in a watershed election year.

WHAT DOES THIS SAY?

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Sept. 30, 1976

Dear Frank:

Friends in Cameron may have noticed in recent statewide news stories that my name is among those Democrats supporting Alan Steelman, a Republican, in his race this year for the United States Senate.

The reason is simple; as confirmed two weeks ago by Time Magazine naming him as one of the south's most articulate emerging political persons, Alan Steelman is a young man--34--who does his own homework, who votes his conscience and who is indeed plugged into the needs of the average fellow.

He is highly respected in Congress, not only because of his brilliance, but because he is one of that body's hardest workers.

I hope residents of Central Texas who traditionally vote Democratic, will take a good look at Steelman and make an exception in this one case.

Sincerely,
Robert Mann

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I listened to the Great Debate the first go-round between President Ford and Governor Carter and when I couldn't tell who won I got hold of all the newspapers I could to see what the columnists had to say and also I listened to the television commentators, and as best I can tell nobody won, it was a tie.

So it seems to me the League of Women Voters, sponsor of the debates, ought to change the rules a little. In case of a tie, just as in professional football, they ought to go into overtime. If after 90 minutes nobody has won, stop for three minutes for the candidates to catch their breath and try to recall their memorized answers and to give the listeners across the nation time to get to the refrigerator and back. Then go for 15 minutes more. If at that point nobody has scored, go another 15 minutes, then if necessary another, and another, etc.

You realize of course the debates might go on all night. If by daylight nobody has won, give the championship to the Dallas Cowboys.

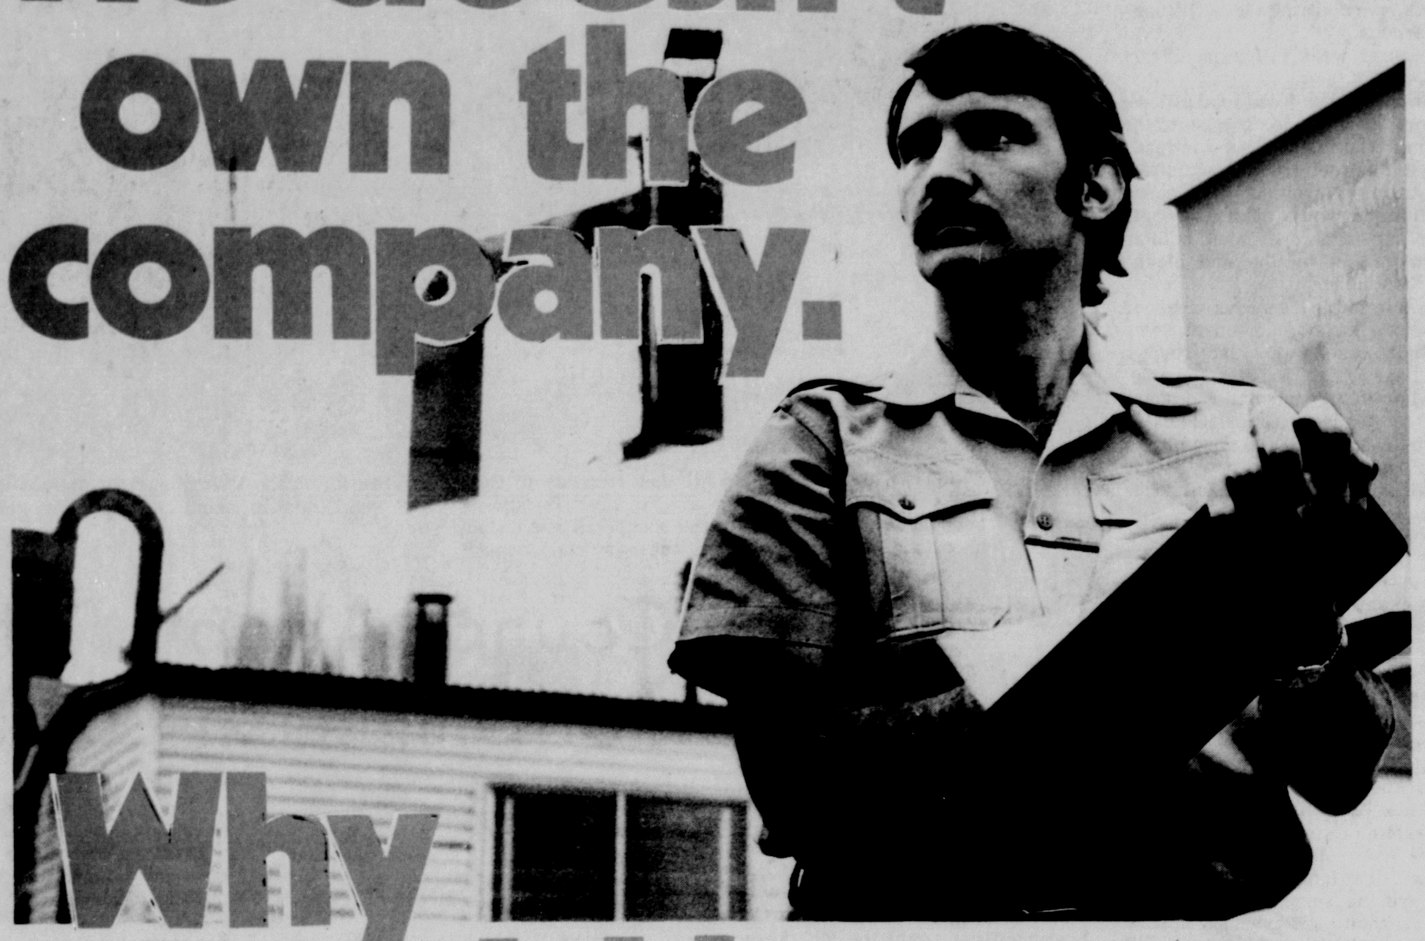
Changing the subject, like a politician does when he doesn't know the answer either, I understand that England is in grave financial trouble. The English pound, which used to be worth $4.80, has now dropped to $1.63.

England is in worse shape than she realizes, when you consider that on top of her pounds' now being worth only $1.63, a dollar is worth only 50 cents. Figure it out for yourself.

The British need to be shielded from this awful truth and I hope you won't allow any copies of this issue of The Cameron Herald to get into England. Tell your subscribers over there who miss this issue it must have been the post office's fault.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

He doesn't own the company.



Why should he care if it makes a profit?

There are places in the world today where "profit" is a dirty word. And even in America, there are people who believe that the making of a profit is a shady, not-quite-honest activity. So, should an employee care whether or not his company makes a profit?

Maybe it's time to re-examine the profit motive. Is a business entitled to a chance at a profit? Does the profit motive cause wages to be too low? Product prices to be too high?

Properly speaking, profit is the reward of "risk" capital, that is, money invested in a venture that is subject to loss. If there were no chance for profit, there would be no reason for the investor to risk his money.

Under the free enterprise system, "risk" capital is essential in starting any kind of business. If the business is successful (profitable) the investor gets his money back—plus a profit. The more profitable the business — the more jobs it can create. And at higher wages.

An unprofitable business cannot long contribute to the job market of the community economy.

Reasonable profits assure a highly competitive economy in which good employee wages and fair consumer prices flourish. Where profit is strictly curtailed, investment money is hard to find. Competition is lessened, jobs become scarce, consumers find product and brand choices reduced and prices are higher.

The original colonies founded on this continent were varied in their economic structures. Some were a form of socialism — while others were based on private ownership with profit motive. Not so strangely, the colonies based on socialistic practices perished or existed on subsidies from the mother country. While those based on the profit motive thrived.

Ralph Wilson Plastics Company supports the idea that this historic fact was no coincidence. Businesses that are profit-motivated are almost always operated more efficiently, generate more jobs, support bigger payrolls and create a market for consumer goods, favorable to owners, employees and the general public.

This is #2 in a series of messages on "the free enterprise system" to be brought to you by Ralph Wilson Plastics Company, manufacturers of Wilson Art brand laminated plastic and other products of quality and value for the building industry.

Food and Fiber Pavilion: Wonderland of Agriculture

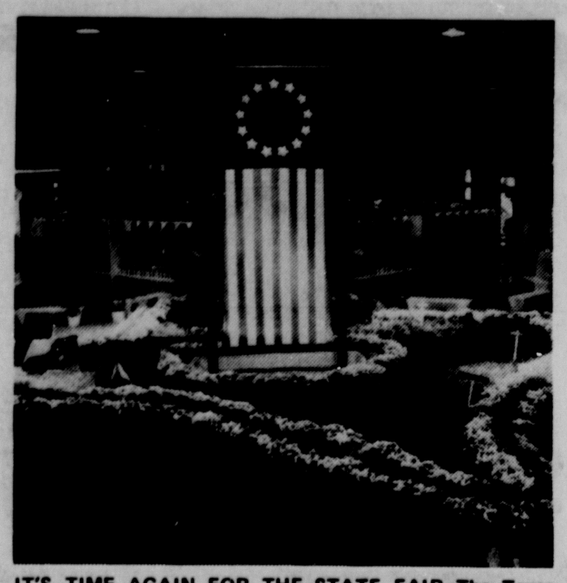
DALLAS--Visitors to the Texas Department of Agriculture Food and Fiber Pavilion at the State Fair October 8-24 will see a "Wonderland of Texas Agriculture."

According to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, the Pavilion will be decorated with a profusion of green plants and decked out in fall colors, in keeping with the Fair's theme, "October Magic."

The exhibits will illustrate some aspects of Texas agriculture, such as a replica of an old-fashioned butcher shop, an incubator hatching live chicks, and the latest fashions featuring fabrics made from natural fibers.

In addition, there will be free informational booklets and recipes for everyone, and the chance to win many prizes, including an ice cream freezer and a smoker-cooker.

More than twenty large exhibitors will display their Texas-produced wares in the Pavilion.



IT'S TIME AGAIN FOR THE STATE FAIR--The Texas Department of Agriculture Food and Fiber Pavilion at the State Fair October 8-24 will feature educational exhibits, free brochures and recipe booklets, and a chance to win several prizes. the Pavilion has been completely remodeled to represent a "Wonderland of Texas Agriculture," according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. Shown above is a scene from the 1975 Pavilion.

Any Crop Failure Should Be Reported

Producers whose cotton or grain crop fails due to conditions beyond their control should contact the County ASCS office before harvesting or plowing under.

Any crop that will not be harvested must be appraised and inspected by a county office representative before baling, grazing, or destroying by shredding or plowing. Failure to have acreage appriased could result in a farm being ineligible for disaster program benefits.

For more information, contact the county ASCS office.

Fall Armyworm Alert Sounded

By Bill McCutchen

It is difficult to say how bad the fall armyworm will get on pastures, small grains, and other crops, but one thing looks pretty certain. A lot of people are going to know he is around shortly.

Armyworm feeding has been heavy on bermuda and other lush pastures for a good while and now are turning to wheat, oats, and ryegrass.

Armyworms generally appear in late summer and early fall where lush growth appears in grasses and forage crops. Small grains planted for fall and winter grazing are especially susceptible to damage. Plants can be stripped of their foliage in short order.

Armyworms reach a length of about 1 1/2 inches when mature. Young armyworms are less than one-half inch long. Their color ranges from pale green to almost black. The worms have two characteristic markings: three parallel yellow lines extending along the back. a prominent white inverted "Y" also appears on the front of the worm's head.

Armyworms are mainly night-feeders but are also active on cloudy days. Grasses should be inspected frequently and carefully to detect armyworm activity, especially during cool, wet weather.

Armyworms can be effectively controlled if measures are taken as soon as infestations appear.

These may be used to control this pest. Producers should follow manufacturer's directions on the labels: Carbaryl (Sevin); Naled (Dibrom); and Parathion.

Naled is not approved for use on forage sorghums. Wait four days before cutting hay to be shipped interstate.

More information on these chemicals can be obtained at the County Agent's office in Cameron.

Research Urged For Cotton

DALLAS

Cotton urgently needs increased research and promotion funds to maintain and strengthen its current momentum in the battle for markets against synthetic fibers.

This point was stressed here at the U. S. Department of Agriculture hearing to determine grower sentiment on proposed amendments to the Cotton Research and Promotion Order.

Under the proposed amendments, grower assessment for research and promotion would be increased by four-tenths of one percent of the gross sales price of each bale of cotton, beginning with the 1977 crop. Current assessments under the program is $1 per bale.

Hearings also are set in Phoenix, and previously were held in Memphis and Atlanta. If the USDA determines that grower sentiment favors the proposed order, it will call for a referendum in which producers will vote on the increased assessment.

Cited as a prime example of progress, was research leading to a more efficient system of seed cotton processing and handling. It was reported that the system saved producers $7 million in 1974 and that the saving could exceed $10 million during the 1976 harvest season.

Grower-financed work to increase the percentage of cotton--and thus its market share--in broadcloth, oxford, and other lightweight fabrics also is paying off.

As a result of the CI effort, the growers testified six mills and converters are producing "Natural Blend" shirting fabrics. Twelve prominent shirt brands are using the fabric which must contain at least 60 percent cotton.

The growers pointed out, however, that cotton faces tremendous odds in research and promotion.

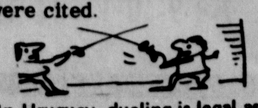
They estimated that in 1975 producers of synthetic fibers spent $230 million in fiber research compared to CI's $5.4 million. The odds in fiber advertising ran $60 million versus $3.4 million for cotton.

It also was emphasized that inflation has hurt cotton's research and promotion effort. The $1 per bale approved by growers in the 1966 referendum will buy only 60 cents worth of research and promotion today. In addition, supplemental government funds now have been eliminated.

There is a great need, the CI grower officials stressed, for increased funding to help close the gap in research and promotion expenditures and to take advantage of needs and opportunities for cotton.

Development of short season cotton systems and finding solutions to the cotton dust and flammability problems were among examples cited in the research area.

Opportunities to increase cotton's export markets and stepped up advertising and merchandising needs also were cited.



In Uruguay, dueling is legal as long as both parties in the dispute are registered blood donors!

Screwworm Eradication Is Not Totally Fool Proof

Since the initiation of the 1962 Screwworm Eradication Program, livestock producers have found that the sterile-male technique of reducing screwworms is not totally fool proof.

From 1963 to 1971 the highest recorded number of screwworm cases in Texas was 9,268 in 1968. This figures indicates that the sterile-male releases were extremely effective in reducing screwworms.

In 1972, however, the number of screwworm cases soared to an astronomical figure of over 90,000 cases in Texas. Eradication officials attribute the 1972 outbreak to larger than normal overwintering screwworm populations which exploded during late winter and early spring.

Favorable moisture and temperature conditions in late summer and fall of 1971 allowed larger populations buildups further north in the state than usual. From January 1976 through August 1976 13,105 screwworm cases have been recorded in Texas (Williamson County 8; Milam County 2). With these points in mind, it would be worthwhile to review and reinforce a few very important facts about screwworms.

Nature of Damage

Maggots feed with the tapered head deep in the wound with only the blunt hind end exposes for breathing. The screwworms continually tear and rasp away living flesh, gouging out deep wounds which exude a brownish, bloody discharge.

The maggots usually feed so deeply that only close observation reveals them projecting just above the surface of the bloody discharge.

The bloody, characteristically foul-smelling wound attracts additional flies which deposit more eggs on or near the wound; consequently, thousands of maggots may infest a single wound. Single, neglected infested wounds can cause death of young animals and are often fatal in grown animals also.

What You Can Do

Each treated or prevented screwworm case can avert the development of several hundred screwworm flies, each of which can infest several additional animals. Just one unnoticed or untreated case can produce enough flies to severly infest an entire area. The seriousness of the 1972 outbreak demands that all livestockmen and pet owners take the following actions:

1. Inspect animals at least twice a week for wounds. Treat all wounds and navels of new born animals with a protective material regardless of whether they are infested.

2. Postpone animal surgery until cold weather when screwworms are inactive. If surgery absolutely must be performed, treat wounds thoroughly with a screwworm protectant, inspect daily until completely healed and retreat would as necessary.

3. Upon receipt of livestock shipments from other areas, check each animal thoroughly for wounds or screwworm infestations. Treat all wounds and observe daily until healed.

4. If worm-infested wounds are found, collect a sample and mail to the Screwworm Eradication Laboratory, Box 969, Mission, TX 78572. Eradication officials MUST know where and how many screwworm cases are occuring to properly plan sterile fly release programs.

Wound Treatments

Several screwworm remedies and wound protectants are available commercially from livestock and veterinary supply outlets. These materials, sold under several brand names, are formulated as viscuous smears, dusts, liquids, and pressuirized aerosols. Insecticides commonly used in these formulations include coumaphos (Co-Ral), ronnel (Korlan), and lindane.

Restrictions on using these materials vary according to the class of livestock being treated. Be sure to thoroughly read the produce label to determine whether it is appropriate for your use and follow any other restrictions listed.

Prevent Injuries

Protruding nails, barbed wire, obstacles or crowded conditions increase chances of livestock injuries which invite screwworm attack. Protect your animals by eliminating any conditions that might cause unnecessary cuts or scratches.

IMPORTANT!!

In order for sterile-male releases to be made in Williamson and Mialm Counties screwworm specimens must be mailed to the Screwworm Eradication Laboratory in Mission, Texas. Vials and containers are available at the County Extension Office in Georgetown and Cameron. These containers can also be obtained from veterinarians and several feed stores. (Postage is prepaid on these containers). R

Remember, reporting these cases will not result in a sterile male release in your ares, specimens must be provided!

ANNOUNCING

I would like to announce that I have sold my business, Duncum Implement Company, Inc. to E. J. Provasek and Melvin Provasek. I wish to take this means of expressing my deep appreciation for your business and for the friendliness demonstrated by those I have had the privilege of serving during the past 15 years as I represented John Deere Company in this area.

Shirts To Feature Cotton Blend

NEW YORK

The nation's second largest manufacturer of men's shirts is turning to cotton in royal fashion for its autumn line.

The Van Heusen Shirt Co. is offering for the first time a "Natural Blend" men's woven dress shirt of 60 percent cotton. The company is calling its shirts the "Cotton Royale."

"Natural Blend" is a trademark of Cotton Incorporated for fabrics of 60 percent or more cotton with durable press performance. Cotton Incorporated is the fiber company of U. S. cotton producers.

"Van Heusen makes some of the highest quality shirts on the market today. We are particularly proud to have them adopt our 'Natural Blend' concept," says J. Nicholas Hahn, Cotton Incorporated vice-president of sales marketing.

The "Cotton Royale" shirt will be available in long sleeve in solids, stripes, and prints in a wide variety of colors, Hahn says.

The company is expected to marker about 50,000 dozen shirts this autymn.

Cotton Incorporated will support the shirt with advertising on the "Today Show" which it partially sponsors.

The shirt package will feature prominently the cotton seal.

Hahn says the shirts will sell in the $14 and $16 range.

Yoe Faces Elgin In Crucial District Clash Friday

The Cameron Yoemen will face the number one - number two ranked teams in the district back - to - back. The Yoemen will battle the number two ranked Elgin Wildcats in Elgin, Friday with kick-off time scheduled for 8 p.m.

The Wildcats will host the Yoemen with a 3-1 record, losing to Giddings 22-20. The Cats have defeated Smithville 35-6, Bastrop 33-3 and Rosebud-Lott 42-6.

Elgin has 7 offensive and 7 defensive returnees from their '75 crusade of 5-4-1.

Experience isn't the only quality that the 2nd ranked district team possesses. The next ingredient that the Yoemen will combat in the crucial district game will be the size.

Elgin lines up 193 pounds per man across the offensive line and will have a 169 pounds in the backfield.

The Wildcats offense has scored 130 points in their efforts this season. That gives the Wildcats a 32.5 points per game average.

Elgin will run the veer option and lead option and will use the 9.7 speed of sophomore Falke. He leads the Wildcats in the scoring department and is the leading ground gainer.

'Cat quarterback Robby McClendon will use a mix of the running and throwing game choosing between receivers Riley and Collins.

Coach Ed Cauley said, "The Wildcats have a good balanced offensive game. They have real fine speed and with Falke they will be a real threat."

The Wildcat's size doesn't stop with the offense but across the defensive front line Elgin will average 195 pounds. The defensive secondary will use 155 pounds per man to stop their offensive opponents.

The Wildcat defense has only allowed 37 points scored against them. Giddings was the single highest scoring offense with 22 points in that pre-season game.

The Wildcats will line up in a 5-2 defense with a rover. The Wildcats will depend on linebackers Perry and Rampy to contain the inside run.

The Wildcats and Yoemen must both have a win this Friday in order to stay alive in district competition. The Wildcats will have the edge going into the game with a district win under their belts.

Rockdale Downs Yoe Frosh

Rockdale scored wins over the Yoe freshmen and JV in Thursday night football action at Tiger Stadium. The Rockdale Tigers defeated the Yoe freshmen 14-8 and the Tigers JV defeated Yoe 18-8.

In the second quarter the Yoemen drove to the 11 yard line and were unable to punch it in and lost the ball on downs.

Late in the second stanza the Tigers moved to the 9 yard line and on 4th and 9 the Tigers broke over the middle and scored. The PAT for 2 was good and the Tigers gained an 8-0 advantage over Yoe.

The Tiger lead held until the fourth quarter and the Yoe offense was able to tie the score with 8:13 remaining in the defensively dominated game.

Yoe QB Dow Dodd connected with Terry Lowe for the 9-yard TD. Dodd rolled out on the quarterback keeper and knotched the score 8-8 with the successful PAT.

The Tigers scored with 6:30 remaining in the game to squeeze by the Yoe freshmen.

The Yoe freshmen season record now stand 1-3110.

In the JV game the Yoemen maintained the lead throughout the first half when Lawrence Lowe rambled in from 12 yards out. The TD came after a 40-yard drive.

On the PAT QB Edward Steamer connected with Earl Johnson for 2. Yoe took command 8-0.

In the second quarter the Tigers scored on a quarterback keeper after driving 50 yards. The PAT failed and the Yoemen retained an 8-6 lead.

The Yoe lead held until the third quarter when the Tigers were successful on a on-side-kick and drove the ball to take the lead 12-8.

The Tigers increased the lead in the fourth quarter and took the district opener 18-8.

The Yoe freshmen and JV teams will play Elgin at Yoe Field, Thursday evening with the freshmen kick-off time scheduled for 6 p.m.

FORREST GUESS

CROWDS. . .

As one out-of-town observer said, "I've been to a lot of games, but this had to be the most thrilling I have ever been to. And the largest crowd I have ever seen for a district game."

It has to be a record for both schools. The estimate would have to be around 7,500 plus that packed into Yoe Field.

After all was said and done--it went pretty smooth for the number of fans.

Credit must be given to Yoe High Principal Jack Chubb for the organization of the seating and crowd control.

In a volatile game situation such as the Yoe-Rockdale game plus the importance of district play, the fans controlled themselves rather well.

AFTER GAME. . .

Many things must combine to make a team Number One. One of these is good sportsmanship.

I was surprised to see at the Yoe after-game rally, the members of the Rockdale school administration to allow the winning team to shout and heckle the Yoe Band.

It could have gotten out of hand; however, the Yoe fans took the defeat and after-game abuse with the opponents coaches looking on, with maturity.

It should be noted a winner is a winner on and off the field. A quality that the Yoe team and fans have displayed for the past years.

HALF TIME. . .

There was little doubt of which band was the winner at half time at the Rockdale-Cameron game Friday night.

Jerry Bartley's Goin' Band from Yoe Land--received a multi-standing ovation for their performance Friday.

After the fanfare formation the Yoe Band displayed that breath-taking marching ability. From the famous quick step and freeze step the Yoe Band went to their circles.

From the circles the band went to the star formation to diamond pull-outs to an X formation then they marched off the field to the Young Yoement.

Hats off to Jerry Bartley and Asst. Director Gary Beach for a show well done--a great group that numbers over 120 students.

Band Power--Yoe style.

CAULEY SAID. . .

"Against Rockdale our young men gave a tremendous effort, and I believe they gave everything they had out on the field.

"Rockdale has a good team. Our youngsters thought that they could beat Rockdale and so did we. I think that the second quarter was the difference in the game.

"We had two fumbles in that quarter and that was just too many mistakes.

"Defensively I though we did a real good job.

"I wanted to win. I don't believe anyone has out-fought us or has out-scrapped us. But we are just unable to get a win in our column.

"It's hard to go out and work Monday after Monday without a win. Our Monday workout was a little sluggish this week, but they haven't given up. But a win is very important to us now.

"I'm proud of our guys and I know that they have the best attitude of any team.

"INJURY"

"Aaron Miller has a dislocated ankle and will be out for the remainder of the season. Clay Kruse and Stephen Hollas both have bruised thighs.

There are a lot of bumps and bruises, something you expect after a hard fought game.

ELGIN

"Elgin has real good size. This is the year they have been waiting for.

"They are ranked behind Rockdale in our district. They will run the same formations as Rockdale.

"They play a 5-man line and just come after you on defense. They have real good size on the front defensive line.

"We're not out of it yet, and your young men will do their best to get a win this week."

Elgin Fems Down Yoe

The Yoe girls traveled to Elgin for their second district game last week and suffered their second district loss.

Elgin was able to come back and win the last two games to get the crucial district win.

Elgin defeated the Yoettes 15-3, 17-15 after the Yoe girls won the opening game 15-6.

Denice Drgac toed the service line for 10 points to lead the Yoe attack.

Evelyn Pittman followed with 6 service points. Diana Chubb and Debra Fleming had five points each.

In the junior varsity game the Yoettes defeated Elgin 15-7, 15-6.

Pam Kimbrel and Vicki Brashear led the Yoette JV attack with each scoring 5 points from the serving line.

Judith Moore followed with 3 points.

In district play each team will play everyone only once. Then the district title will be decided by a district tournament.

The district tournament has been set for November 6.

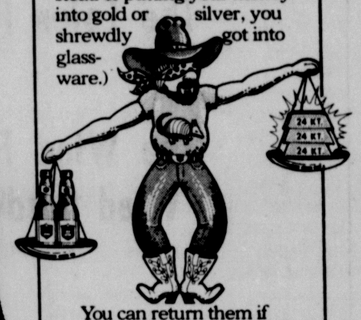
HOW TO GET A LIFETIME SUPPLY OF LONE STAR LONG NECKS FOR 84¢.

It's a pain to come up with that 84¢ deposit on your first case of Lone Star Long Necks.
But you're home free on every other case you buy.

You know what this means? A never-ending supply of the legendary Long Neck bottles.
Forever. Perpetually
For time eternal.

You can pass them on in your will just like your other worldly possessions.

You can consider them a hedge against inflation. (Instead of putting your money into gold or silver, you shrewdly got into glassware.)



You can return them if you want to rub your nickels together again.
But you'll probably want to bring them back to the place you bought them. This way you can end up with something even more valuable than a case of Long Necks.
A case of Long Necks full of Lone Star Beer.

Decree Denies Free Worship

Freedom of worship has been denied the Christian society of Jehovah's Witnesses and their 604 congregations throughout Argentina, by decree signed by Jorge Rafael Videla, president of Argentina, under date of August 31, 1976.

According to Raymond E. Waldron, presiding overseer of the Cameron congregation, the branch offices of the society and all meeting places have been closed. Publishing and distributing Bibles and Bible literature is forbidden.

Waldron said a communication received from world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in Brooklyn, New York, was considered by the Cameron congregation. "We were shocked and surprised at this move by the Argentine government," Waldron said.

Waldron reported, "In ordering 'the activity of the religious association. . .prohibited in the whole territory of the nation,' the decree, issued by President Videla stated that 'freedom of worship consecrated by Articles 14 and 20 of the National Constitution of course finds itself limited in the sense that the religious ideas should not imply the violation of laws or an attempt against public order, national security, morale, or good customs.'

"According to a bill passed by the Argentine Congress in 1949," Waldron explained, "all religious groups except the Catholic Church were required to register with the Department of Cults of tye Ministry of Foreign Relations. Registry of Jehovah's Witnesses was denied and in August 1950 our work was officially proscribed.

"For five years following this proscription, close surveillance of Jehovah's Witnesses was maintained but, with the fall of the Peron government in 1955, pressure began to ease somewhat and the following year a national public assembly was held attended by over 5,000 persons.

Church To Observe Laity Day

Laity Day will be observed this Sunday at the First Methodist Church of Cameron. The theme for this special day will be "A Nation Under God." The service is being planned by lay leader, Bill Dase and the pastor, Rev. Stanley Vodicka, Jr. Lay persons will participate in the worship service.

Laity Day speaker will be Dr. Edward Vodicka of Austin. Dr. Vodicka, brother of the pastor, is an active layman in the University Methodist Church in Austin where he is a member of the administrative board and a team teacher of the Susannah Wesley Class.

Dr. Vodicka has been a public school teacher, elementary school principal, a college teacher of education and is now the assistant director of the Division of Teacher Education and Certification of the Texas Education Agency in Austin. His publications include articles in the National Education Journal, The Texas Outlook and the Oklahoma Teacher.

Special music will be presented by the chancel choir under the direction of Mrs. Tommy Corley. Mrs. Hilliard Thomas will play the organ.

Women To Test Pilot Training

ARLINGTON

The first 10 women to enter Air Force pilot training have arrived at the Officer Training School, Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, for flight screening.

Nine of the women are from the active duty force, and one is from the Air Force Reserve.

In January 1977, an additional 10 women officers--nine active duty and one from an Air National Guard unit--will enter pilot training. In March 1977, six active duty women officers will enter navigator training. All will participate on an equal basis with men students.

Admission of the 26 women to pilot and navigator training is a test program to identify any training or utilization problems associated with women in careers previously restricted to men.

Academic and flight instruction at Lackland is aimed at screening out students unlikely to finish the all-jet undergraduate pilot training

In the Big Leagues or the Little League, at the World Series or on a sandlot—the rule is the same: Three strikes and you're out!
And it's also one of the basic rules of life: Missed opportunities spell failure!
But it's your attitude that counts. Come to the plate knowing you'll strike out . . . and you will!
Take a positive approach in all matters—even religious education. Every Sunday in our churches hundreds of boys and girls gain a spiritual foundation that will help them fulfil their richest opportunities. Their parents, too, in worship and Christian service, are learning to improve the quality of life in our community.
Be sure—next Sunday morning.

A & M Hosts Greenhouse Conference

Approximately 150 commercial producers of foliage and flowering plants are expected to register for the annual Oklahoma-Texas Greenhouse Growers Conference at Texas A&M University's Rudder Center, October 21 and 22.

"While the conference will feature principally flowering pot plants, the overall program should be interesting and informative for all greenhouse growers," said Everett E. Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Texas A&M and Oklahoma State University alternate as hosts for the annual educational event, Janne, program coordinator, added.

Registration will open at 8 a.m. Oct. 21 on the second floor of the Rudder Center. Participants will be welcomed to Texas at 9:30 a.m. by Dr. Warren Barham, professor and head of the newly-created Department of Horticultural Sciences at A&M. Barham assumed duties as department head on Sept. 1 after serving as director of raw material research for Basic Vegetable Products of California.

TJC Receives Funds For Czech Classes

Temple Junior College has received $150 for Czech language and culture programs from RVOS, a Czech founded farmers mutual insurance company.

Calvin Chervenka, coordinator of Czech courses at TJC, said the money will be used for purchase of tapes and recorded lessons as well as for scholarships for students continuing the study of Czech.

University To Trap Sun's Rays

By early 1977, Trinity University will have in operation the nation's largest solar energy collection system.

The $1.7 million project will provide approximately 75 percent of the heating and hot water requirements for the Sams Memorial Center, Trinity's physical education complex, and six dormitories --Thomas, Lightner, Susanna, Myrtle, Isabel, and Heidi. During the cooling season, excess solar energy will be used to provide part of the air conditioning requirements.

Tracking concentrating solar collectors manufactured by Northrup, Inc., of Hutchins Tex., will transform the roof of the Sams Center into a scene out of science fiction. New to technology, the 1,609 tracking collectors, each 10 feet long and one foot wide, will be installed in groups of 16 on the roof of the Sams Center. A tracking system for each group will drive the collectors by cable to rotate with the sun, collecting and concentrating the sun's rays onto a small water pipe.

And thus begins the harnessing of energy from a five billion-year-old sun by modern day technology to service 284,928 square feet of buildings, the 498 students who live in the dormitories and the hundreds of individuals who daily work in, use, and attend classes in the Sams Center.

Water Utilities Workers To Meet

The October meeting of the Central Texas Water Utilities Association will be held on Thursday, Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the Bellmead Community Center, 3900 Parrish.

The Association, whose membership includes employees of public and private water and wastewater utilities, meets monthly to assist its members in meeting State certification requirements.

Defeat Urged For Nov. Water Bond Propa osal

AUSTIN

Defeat of the $400 million water bond constitutional amendment was urged today by a statewide enviornmental "organization of organizations."

Environmental Action for Texas, through its chairman Richard W. Tims, announced here its campaign for "no" votes on Constitutional Amendment Number 1 in the general election Nov. 2.

The proposed constitutional amendment would authorize the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) to issue an additional $400 million in bonds without an interest ceiling. The Board at present has bonding authority of $400 million at a maximum interest rate of 6 percent.

Tims said that Environmental Action for Texas is "the political arm of the Texas Environmental Coalition (TEC), a statewide organization of groups concerned with the environment of Texas." The EAT campaign against the amendment is based on the TEC's position paper on the amendment, which was recently approved by the TEC executive committee. The position paper, which EAT released today, declares that the TEC " strongly disapproves of Constitutional Amendment Number 1."

The position paper declares "approval of the referendum would be not only a grave potential threat to our environment but also fiscal and economic folly."

Tims contended (quoting from the position paper): "The Texas Water Department Board has all the money it needs for the foreseeable future, and its present operations are costing the taxpayer plenty already."

About $169 million of TWDB funds are at present uncommitted, and although loans are repaid with interest, the program still costs the taxpayers several millions of dollars each year.

Tims pointed out that there are no specific plans and priorities for use of the TWDB revolving fund, quoting from the TEC paper that "there is no plan, no blueprint, no economic assessment, no environmental impact study, yet voters are asked to commit themselves to another $400 million for a blank check account."

The paper refutes the argument that additional reservoirs aid the local economy and improve the environment in terms of recreation, saying that "recent studies show that local economies benefit very little and sometimes lose from water development projects."

"Gains from land value increases and additional construction are offset by increases in traffic problems, in litter cleanup needs, in law enforcement needs, in rural sprawl, and in sewage and garbage volume," it points out.

Reservoirs can be developed and maintained as desirable places for recreation, Tims declared, but the TWDB assumes no responsibility in this regard and will not lend money for such purposes. Furthermore, he said, the TWDB is opposed to the so-called mitigation clause in the federal law that requires water developers to bear the cost of developing public areas for public hunting and other forms of land-based recreation and is fighting against federal insistence on mitigation of wildlife habitat loss.

"The reservoir shores are left, almost entirely, without adequate controls over development and pollution of the shore line and the water," he said.

MIKE PECK

JIMMY ZALESKY

Jimmy Zalesky will be the starting defensive tackle for the Fighting Yoemen this season.

Zalesky is a 15 year old sophomore at Yoe High and has participated in football since the seventh grade. He will be wearing jersey No. 76, stands 5'10" and weighs in at 194. Along with football Jimmy also participates in the track program.

Jimmy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Zalesky of 1512 N. Houston in Cameron.

When asked about favorites on the pro and college level Zalesky cites the University of Texas his favorite college and chooses the Dallas Cowboys in the pro division.

This past summer Jimmy spent his time hauling hay to keep in shape for the '76 season.

RODERICK KELLEY

Roderick Kelley will fill the wing back position for the Yoemen this season.

Kelley is a 16 year old Jr. at Yoe High and has been active in sports since the seventh grade. He stands 5'4" and weighs in at 141. He will be wearing jersey No. 84.

Roderick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kelley of Cameron.

Kelley cites the Ohio State Buckeyes as his favorite college team, and chooses the Dallas Cowboys as his favorite pro team

Roderick spent all summer working and keeping in shape for the 76 season, but will be out the remainder of the season with a broken jaw.

OJT Sports News

In opening district play for OJ Thomas Jr. High the Young Yoemen faced Rosebud-Lott. The OJT 7th battled to an 8-8 tie and the 8th grade Young Yoemen defeated the Cougars, 18-14.

In the seventh grade game the Rosebud-Lott Cougars opened the scoring in the first quarter when they scored from 10 yards out. The Cougars converted on the two point PAT try.

The Young Yoemen battled back in the opening stanza and marched to paydirt when Jeff Boutwell exploded in from 10 yards out. The try for two was successful when Richard Robinson plunged into the end zone.

Both teams battled in the second quarter and it continued to be a head knocking defensive game.

At halftime the score remained, 8-8.

In the final half both offensive teams were unable to continue to maintain their offensive drives with both defensive teams gaining dominance.

For the Young Yoemen Dan Corley, Greg Poole and Collins led the defensive battle.

The OJT 7th graders are 2-1-1 for the season.

The OJT 8th grade young Yoemen used a powerful offensive effort to defeat Rosebud-Lott, 18-14.

The Young Yoemen opened the scoring in the second stanza when James Mondrik plunged in form 4 yards out. The TD came after a 60 yard drive down the field with a precision offensive drive.

The PAT failed and OJT had a 6-0 lead.

The lead held through the quarter and the OJT 8th grade went to the dressing room at half-time with a 6-0 lead.

The lead held through the quarter and the OJT 8th grade went to the dressing room at half-time with a 6-0 lead.

In the third quarter OJT started a 70 yard drive that culminated in their 2nd TD of the evening.

OJT quarterback Billy Lowe tossed a quick-pitch to Rusty Crummer and dashed 20 yards to paydirt. The PAT again failed and the OJT increased the lead, 12-0.

The Cougars offense was not to be denied and after a 60 yard drive the Cougars got on the scoreboard. Their PAT try for 2 was good. The OJT lead was cut to 4, 12-8.

Alan Sapp took command of the OJT offense and tossed a 40 yard TD pass to Harlan Short for the 3rd OJT touchdown. Again the OJT point after attempt failed and the Young Yoemen gained insurance, 18-8.

In the final quarter the Cougars broke on a 70 yard run that resulted in the 2nd Cougar score. The PAT failed.

Defensive standouts for the 8th grade included: Tony Shelander, Harlan Short, Rusty Crummer and Alan Lindeman. Offensively Jasper Harden, Casey Stanislaw and Rodney Fincher had a good night.

The OJT Young Yoemen held the lead and marched to an 18-14 lead in their district opener. The OJT ledger for the season now stands, 2-1-1.

Both OJT teams open this week.

Axtell Downs Eagles, 20-0

The Milano Eagles dropped a non-district game to Axtell in Saturday football action, 20-0.

The Axtell Homecoming crowd watched their team roll up 12 first downs 133 yards rushing and 87 yards passing to defeat the Eagles.

The Eagles were only able to knotch the first down chain 2 times and were held to 80 yard offense, all of which came from their running game.

The Axtell Longhorns scored after a fombled snap by the Eagles punter was tackled on the 20.

Bobby Findley scored on a 20 yard run with 8:03 remaining in the 1st quarter.

The PAT for 2 was successful.

The Longhorns took advantage of another Milano error and scored with 7:58 remaining in the 3rd quarremaining in the 3rd stanza.

The final Longhorn score came in the 4th quarter after a 60 yard drive in only 6 plays giving Axtell the Homecoming win 20-0.

Install Smoke Detector To Prevent Fire Losses

National Fire Prevention Week is designated each year to emphasize precautions which can be taken to prevent injuries and loss of life and property from fire. This year Fire Prevention Week is Oct. 3-9, and homeowners are encouraged to consider installing an early warning system as a fire safety measure.

"A residence burns every 45 seconds, adding up to 1,000 per day and almost 700,000 per year. Nearly 7,000 persons die in these fires and at least one-fourth of the victims are children under 14," points out Dr. Gary Nelson, agricultural safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Since a high percentage of these deaths takes place while people are asleep, an early warning system can be a life saver, emphasizes Nelson. Although many different types of heat and smoke detectors are available at varying costs, one or two strategically placed, single-station smoke detectors can do the job. Estimates show that if homes were quipped with an early-warning fire detection device, between 40 and 50 percent of the people killed in home fires might be saved.

"Most dwelling fires start by smoldering; that is, one of the first combustion products to originate from a house fire is likely to be smoke. Therefore, a smoke detector would appear to be more suitable as an early-warning fire detection device than a heat detector," notes the Texas A&M University specialist.

Smoke detectors are self-contained units that can run on batteries or can be plugged into existing electrical systems. The cost averages $50 per unit. Two types of effective smoke detectors are listed with the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission: ion-chamber detectors and photoelectric detectors.

"In selecting a smoke detector, read the label," says Nelson. "Reliable detectors will be listed with Underwriters Laboratory, a testing lab for electrical and safety equipment, or with Factury Mutual Underwriters. This ensures that the system has met minimum standards set by the National Fire Protection Association."

Nelson offers these buying tips regarding smoke detectors: don't be frightened into a hasty purchase, get two or three price estimates before purchasing; test the units as you install them or request that the installer test units in your presence; request an instruction booklet on operation, testing, and maintenance; purchase only equipment which bears UL or FM labels, and understand the extent of the guarantee and who will honor it.

"The location of fire detectors in the home is extremely important," emphasizes the specialist. "A single station unit smoke detector installed outside the bedroom area on the ceiling or wall will provide basic protection for the average home. If the dwelling is a two-story building with bedrooms on both floors, two units are recommended--one outside each bedroom area. Ceiling mounted units have proven superior to some wall mounted units in equipment tests because smoke more readily enters the detection chamber."

Nelson reminds homeowners that even though fire has been detected early, it can still endanger lives if the home cannot be evacuated quickly. Although the first choice might be to walk out the front door, this is not always possible. Therefore, careful consideration should be given to alternate methods of escape.

JOHN GUILLOTE

Navy Chief Operations Specialist John R. Guillote, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gullote Sr., of Rt. 3, Rockdale, recently made a port visit to Constanta, Rumania.

He visited the county as a crewmember aboard the cruiser USS Harry E. Yarnell. This marked the second time a U. S. warship had docked in Constanta in 50 years. During the four-day visit, crewmembers of the Rumanian Navy training ship Mircea, hosted Guillote and fellow shipmates on tours of historical and cultural interest points in Rumania, including visits to Black Sea resort areas.

A graduate of Rockdale High School, he joined the Navy in June 1963. His ship, homeported in Norfolk, Va., is currently on an extended deployment to the Mediterranean as a unit of the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

EUGENE RICHARDS

Airman Eugene D. Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Richards of Rogers, has graduated at Lackland AFB, Tex., from the U. S. Air Force technical training course for law enforcement specialists.

Airman Richards, now trained in security and law enforcement, is being assigned to Ramstein AB, Germany, for duty with a unit of the United States Air Forces in Europe. Completion of the course enables the airman to receive academic credits through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Richards attended Temple High School.

Vet Burial Allowance Available

Families of veterans should be made aware that the VA burial allowance available to former servicemen and women, Jack Coker, Veterans Administration regional director, said today.

For example, VA provides a payment of up to $250 toward the burial expense of eligible veterans. An additional $150 is available as a plot or interment allowance when burial is not in a National Cemetery or other cementery under jurisdiction of the federal government.

VA burial or polit allowances are not paid to the extent that the payment has been made by the veteran's employer or by a state agency or political subdivision of a state.

When the veteran's death is service-connected, payment of an amount not to exceed $800 will be made in lieu of the usual burial and intrment allowances.

With the exception of Arling National Cemetery, burial is available to eligible veterans at all National Cemeteries having space. Burial in these cementries mwy also be authorized for an eligible veteran's wife or husband, minor children, and, under certain conditions, unmarried adult children.

PUC Holds Continental New Rate Hearing

The Texas Public Utility Commission held a hre-hearing conference last week in the Continental Telephone Co. rate request for the purpose of classifying intervenors.

PUC postponed for 120 days the effective date of the rate request, scheduled to go into effect October 16. The Commission also granted Texas municipal League's request to intervene on behalf of several cities for the revenue requirement portion of the case.

Intervening cities will be grouped along the 10 rate bands proposed by Continental for the rate pattern and revenue apportionment section of the rate case. Lead counsel for Texas Municipal League is Don Butler. Intervening cities must name their lead counsels for each of the 10 rate bands by Friday, October 1.

4-H CLUB NEWS

By Kenneth Waites

"4-H--Room to Grow" is the theme of National 4-H Club week, Oct. 3-9.

4-H, the informal educational program for youth administered by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University system, provides opportunities for youth to grow physically, mentally, and spiritually.

The theme is appropriate because it focuses on how 4-H programs help youth achieve self-fulfillment. 4-H emphasizes the development of real life skills: learning "how to learn" for today and for a lifetime; using one's knowledge to improve the quality of life for self and others; relating to social, technological, environmental, and economic change; and growing through the pursuit and achievement of self-imposed goals.

These skills are desperately needed in a society that increasingly must cope with problems of apathy, unemployment, crime, deterioration of the family as a social unit, and crisis in health and morals. Today's youth need to be involved in meaningful activities that will affect their lives and society for the better and 4-H can play a key part in this effort.

Through the 4-H program, young people can develop the practical skills, and citizenship-leadership abilities that contribute to personal growth and to concern for family, community, nation, and world. National 4-H Week is designed to salute all 4-H members, their parents, volunteer leaders, businesses, and others who make 4-H a viable, contemporary youth program.

During the period of Sept. 22-25 three county fairs were held in which several Milam County 4-H'ers competed. In the Washington County Fair, Rhonda Scroggins of Thorndale showed four Brangus heifers and won a first and three fourth paces. Stephen Beasley of Thorndale won a fourth with a Hereford heifer. Wendy Hirt, also of Thorndale, won a second with Hampshire ewe. Shelly Hall of Rockdale won two blue ribbons with two Jersey heifers; and Dwayne Borho of Griffin Chape won second with a Brown Swiss heifer.

Jimmy and Kenny Patin, of Thorndale, competed in the Comal County Fair and the Kendall County Fair. At the Comal County Fair, Jommy showed the champion and reserve champion Polled Hereford heifers and Kenny won two first places also with Polled Hereford heifers.

At the Kendall County Fair, Jimmy had a first and second and Kenny had a first and third.

Several Milam County 4-H'ers will be competing in the Heart 'O Texas Fair in Waco Oct. 5-10 with beef and dairy heifers, swine, and sheep.

Meetings

Beta Nu

Mrs. Jesse E. Holloway of Rockdale, chairman of the Personal Growth and Services Committee, was leader for Program No. 2, "Personal Commitment" of the year's focus "Commitment," for the meeting of Beta Nu chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, at the Kountry Inn in Rockdale, Saturday, Oct. 2 at 9:30 a.m. Arrangements for the brunch were made by the Rockdale members.

Speakers for the program were Mmes Lee Roy Carter, Lew Simmonds, and Joann Lahe, all of Rockdale. The program brought the achievements of education from 1920 up to date. Mrs. Holloway introduced each decade by citing the important national events; and the speakers pointed out the progress in education through each 10-year period, in teacher salaries, teacher contract requirements, intergration, scholastic subjects and attendance, federal aid, focus on the "gifted" child, length of the school year, the new method of certification of teachers, and the method of inner self police action of the individual teacher. Mrs. Holloway closed the program by reading the poem "Somebody Else."

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. N. B. Range of Marlin, Mrs. Marylea Wood, formerly of Arizona and now of Waco, was reinstated as a member; the Golden Gift Fund was explained; and the constitutional changes of the society were discussed.

Mrs. Harold Chafin's fourth grade students of Rockdale made paper red roses that decorated the dining tables.

The next meeting will be the Christmas meeting, Dec. 11 in the home of Mrs. F. P. Goddard of Marlin.

Facts & Fancies

Cold is simply the absence of heat. How cold is coldest? A temperature of -459.7°F., or Absolute Zero, is the most frigid temperature attainable in the universe.

First Lady Appoints Woodum To Program

Mrs. Dolph Briscoe has apointed Mrs. R. J. Woodum of Cameron county chairperson for the First Lady's Volunteer Program, Office of the Governor. Mrs. Woodum will be responsible for coordinating volunteer activities in Milam County, working with Mrs. Gene Goodnight of Belton, who coordinates volunteer activities in the 7-county area covered by the Central Texas Council of Governments. Mrs. Randall Smith, Rockdale, will be co-chairperson.

The First Lady's Volunteer Program was created by an Executive Order signed by Governor Briscoe in October 1974. The order calls for the office to act as a liaison between the Governor's Office and other state agencies in seeking ways to develop and expand volunteerism and to make opportunities known to all communities.

In making the appointment, Mrs. Briscoe said, "Volunteering is a way of life in Texas; it allows people to become directly involve in solving mutual problems and working toward common solutions. The First Lady's Volunteer Program is working to let all Texans know that there are many opportunities to volunteer their time and talents for the benefit of many."

The First Lady's Volunteer Program is active in volunteer-support areas of adult basic education, special education, juvenile deliquency prevention, projects for the aged and others where volunteeers can contribute to the community good.

The First Lady's Volunteer Program is co-sponsoring the upcoming swine flu effort with state and local health officials. The Volunteer Program will recruit and place the stimated 600-000 volunteers needed to help inoculate 11 million Texans from the deadly influenza.

Ablee Drama Opens Year's Productions

Edward Ablee's "Everything In the Garden" will be the Temple Junior College drama department's opening productions for the 1976-77 year.

The play will be presented Oct. 13, 14, 15, and 16 at 8 p.m. and Oct. 17 at 2:30 p.m. in the Backstage Theatre in the TJC Fine Arts Building. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1.50 for students.

Wayne Toone, drama instructor, said the play was chosen because of the extreme challenge it presents to both actors and audience. "We believe it has a story to tell for today's audiences," he said. A moralistic play written for the late '60s, "Everything In the Garden" will be presented in the present time, as its message is still valuable, he said. He noted that the play is aimed at an adult audience.

"Everything In the Garden" will be TJC's entry in the American College Theatre Festival which will be held in Fort Worth Nov. 3-6. Sponsored by he American Theatre Association, the festival is theater competition for junior colleges, four year colleges, and major universities.

Tickets for the play are now on sale in the drama department. Advance reservations are recommended. Since seating is limited in the Backstage Theatre, reservations may be made by calling 773-9962, exten. 20.

Dance Class Offered At Temple JC

Classes in square dancing will be offered at Temple Junior College beginning Oct. 18. The eight-week course will meet on Monday's from 7 to 9 p.m. and is offered through the Continuing Education Division.

The classes will be taught by Ed Larder of Temple. Larder has attended several square dance caller clinics around the country and is the caller and instructor for three Square Dance clubs in the Temple area, the Twirling Squares, Calico Squares, and Harvest Squares.

Even though it is as old as the pioneers,' "Square dancing in the Temple area is growing rapidly," Larder said. "More and more people are rediscovering a world of fun in western style square dancing."

Square dancing gets its name from the fact that the four couples are arranged to resemble a square.

There are two different types of square dancing--the patter and the singing call. The patter is a dance where the caller guides the dancers through the motions in any manner he chooses. The singing call is the dance set to a song where the caller uses the figures set to music.

The cost of the course is $13. Additional information and registration may be obtained by calling the TJC Office of Continuing Education, 773-9961, ext. 66.

Homemaking Hints

For Safety & Economy

CLOG-FREE DRAINS

Clogged drains are the most common plumbing problem we face. But happily they are also the easiest to prevent!

Clogs are formed by materials like grease, food scraps, hair and even soap scum that collect at the base of the U-shaped pipe under the sink.

Here are some tips to keep your drains running freely:

* Don't put fat, grease or oil down the kitchen drain.
* Use a sink strainer to trap food particles.
* Don't flush coffee grounds down drains.
* Once a week use Drain Power, the one-second drain opener that works without hazardous lyes or acids, to help prevent clogs from building up.

Fresh Pear Waldorf Salad makes a delightful accompaniment to a bubbly pot of baked beans. Diced fresh Western winter pear and dates combine with crunchy pecans and celery and a honey flavored mayonnaise dressing. This tasty Waldorf Salad is served over juicy wedges of fresh winter pears.

Fruit salads are just one of the many ways to enjoy the three varieties of fresh Western winter pears. Aside from unexcelled fresh eating, Anjou, Bosc and Comice pears add their distinctive sweet flavor to baked desserts, hot breads and meat accompaniments.

Fresh winter pears from Western sun country can be enjoyed through May.

Pear Waldorf Salad

- 3 fresh Anjou, Bosc or Comice pears
- Lemon juice
- ¼ cup diced dates
- ½ cup diced celery
- ¼ cup broken pecans
- ⅓ cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon honey

Core and slice 2 pears into wedges. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Core and dice remaining pear and combine with dates, celery, pecans, mayonnaise and honey. Serve over pear wedges. Makes 4 servings.

MEMBERS of Retired Teachers Association enjoyed lunch during a conference and workshop at First Baptist Church.

Retired Teachers Meet For Workshop, Conference

The Milam County Retired Teachers Association scheduled "A Thoroughfare to Tomorrow," for the NRTA Drive-In Conference, Sept. 29 in Cameron at the First Baptist Church.

For this workshop in area 7, 48 participants and their presidents registered from these RTA units: Mrs. Lila M. Lane, Bryan-College Station; C. L. Neal, Temple-Belton; Charles W. Engle, Falls Co.; Mrs. Doris Gleason, Milam Co.; Mrs. Ada F. Sandifer, Robertson Co.

Immediate past TRTA President Blanche Shear of Brownwood brought greetings and best wishes for a successful workshop from TRTA President T. E. McCollum of McAllen.

Mrs. Ruth Wench of Midland, NRTA state director of Texas, presented goals for all RTA units. Mrs. Wench encouraged membership to cooperate with TSTA and Texas Retirement system by supporting the legislative program and striving for uniformity of wills.

Olson Sweat of Colorado City, NRTA program implementation specialist, disucssed problems of well-planned programs.

Other highlights of the meeting included group participation in the question-and-answer session on legislation leadership programs, memberships, services, and community affairs.

The Business and Professional Women's Club prepared and served the lunch afed and served the lunch under the leadership of Mrs. Ruby Mosley.

Miss Lois Randolph decorated the tables with baskets of fruits that she antiqued. Each one received a plate favor of a hand painted Texas design key chain.

During the lunch hour, Max McClaren with Mrs. Margie Ireland at the piano, led the group in singing familiar songs.

Fall Festival Planned At St. Mary's

Bremond St. Mary's Catholic Church will have its fall festival Sunday, Oct. 17. The third Sunday in October has been the annual bazaar, festival, or homecoming for years.

Activities begin at 11:30 a.m. with a barbecue dinner with trimmings. Barbecue to go will be sold at the pits by the pound.

The general auction begins at 2 p.m. with professiona auctioneers conducting the bidding.

During the day and into the evening refreshments will be available, games will be played, and concession and activity stands will be operating. Rides for the children will also be available.

Principally, former Bremond residents or people having some connection with Bremond attend the annual function from out of town. People come from many points within the state as well as from out of the state.

This year festivities are labelled "centennial homecoming."
